

Learning to Walk with God

Erwin Lutzer

I. Introduction.

A. Text: Hebrews 11:5, Genesis 5.

B. Enoch did not die—he walked with God, and God simply took Him to heaven.

II. Enoch walked with God...

A. In the midst of an evil society. It is possible to walk with God in the midst of an evil society.

B. In the midst of family. It is possible to walk with God and have family.

C. In the midst of marriage. It is possible to walk with God and be married.

III. Five characteristics of walking with God.

A. Agreement with God.

1. This means confessing our sins to be in moral agreement with God.

2. We have fellowship with God if we walk in the light. (I John)

3. We should not get ahead of God or behind Him.

B. Trust. (Psalm 104, Exodus 34)

C. Sharing.

D. Mutual honor.

E. There is a destination—the presence of the Almighty.

Application questions:

1. Which characteristics of walking with God stands out to you the most? What strikes you?

2. How does Enoch demonstrate that society does not determine one's values?

3. Many people fear the end of their lives with God, but Enoch was likely not one of them. What about his life made the end of his life a thought he could endure?
